

PROJECT ANALYST

Discern Health is a rapidly growing Baltimore-based consulting firm providing strategic direction and solutions to government and nonprofit agencies, health insurers, and life science companies. We focus on quality strategies, performance measurement, and value-based care. Our projects will help you gain knowledge in these areas and give you invaluable client exposure and the opportunity to work closely and learn from our senior staff in a highly collaborative environment.

Expect to:

- Conduct research and analysis on health care issues, such as measurement and reporting of quality and costs
- Assist in development and preparation of reports and slide presentations, including drafting, editing, proofreading, and formatting
- Support efficient completion of client projects, including coordinating logistics, tracking key milestones, and monitoring budgets
- Demonstrate commitment to exemplary results for clients
- Contribute to Discern's marketing efforts, including the development of proposals
- Contribute to Discern's organizational evolution by participating on committees geared toward improving workflow efficiencies, client outcomes, communications, and workplace culture

Specific Qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree from an accredited university—advanced degree in public health or related field with training in statistics preferred
- Proficiency in the Microsoft Office suite of programs, including Outlook, Word, Excel, and PowerPoint
- Excellent listening, verbal, written, and presentation skills
- Excellent analytical skills
- Ability to develop creative approaches and solutions necessary to resolve complex problems
- Experience working in a professional office environment

ABOUT

At Discern Health we value high-quality, professional work. Our teams are made up of autonomous thinkers who can research and analyze issues, then come together to communicate and present their work in a collaborative manner, both orally and in written form. We pride ourselves on our ability to provide timely services that exceed our clients' needs and expectations.
